TELECOMMUNICATIONS REGULATORY BOARD

PRESS RELEASE

The Board of Directors of the Telecommunications Regulatory Board (TRB), a special public establishment, respectively held its 71st extraordinary meeting on 27 November 2026 in Mbankomo (United Hotel), convened by its Chairperson, Professor Justine DIFFO née TCHUNKAM.

The Director General, Professor ZOO ZAME Philémon reported the items on the agenda, assisted by the Deputy Director General Mr ZOURMBA ABOUBAKAR.

The 71st extraordinary session was mainly dedicated to adopting the 2026–2030 Strategic Performance Plan (PSP) for the Telecommunications Regulatory Board (TRB), drafted in compliance with Decree No. 2025/03044/PM of 29 December 2025 governing the preparation and validation of strategic planning documents.

The TRB is a special-status public institution classified as a second-category public establishment. Within the telecommunications and ICT sector, its core regulatory mandates include

- Processing applications for operating authorisations (such as licences, prior declarations, and type approvals) submitted by sector operators and stakeholders;

- Allocating scarce resources (such as radio frequencies and numbering resources) to operators who hold operating accreditations;

- Monitoring compliance with the terms and conditions set out in the operators' technical specifications, notably through inspections and enforcement powers;

- Collecting fees, contributions and levies on behalf of the State;

- Protecting consumers of electronic communications products and services.

The TRB Strategic Performance Plan (PSP) for 2026–2030 which succeeds the Strategic Development Plan (SDP) for 2022–2025 was developed through a collaborative and inclusive process, incorporating input from key stakeholders, including the Board of Directors, General Management, sector operators and consumers.

Therefore, the primary objective of the PSP 2026–2030 is to "foster a competitive, secure, inclusive and technologically compliant electronic communications market, aiming to deliver measurable and publicly reported service quality to users, underpinned by reliable data, shared frameworks with the State, efficient and digitised support functions, and secure financial resources".

At the end of the meeting, the Board of Directors approved the TRB Strategic Performance Plan (PSP) for 2026–2030 and commended General Management for its multifaceted initiatives aimed at achieving a sustainable of resolution of electronic communications service quality issues, ultimately ensuring stronger consumer protection. /-
